F12 & C16 Gas Monitoring

F12 is designed for ambient gas monitoring in all kinds of industrial environments. The F12 transmitter can be used almost anywhere that gas conditions might develop through natural buildup. Developed and manufactured exclusively, our electrochemical sensors provide excellent response time, maximum selectivity, and superior temperature stability for reliable gas sensing in a wide range of environments. Internal memory stores operational information and calibration constants, along with gas sensor identification, sensing module range, and software revision level.

C16 portable gas detector is a versatile tool for performing regular checks in and around processing areas. Designed for easy one-hand operation, the C16 contains an internal sample pump and a flexible sampling wand to pinpoint the location of the source. Large display ensures that measured values are easily visible with a back light. A unique feature of the C16 detector is its ability to measure the gas by simply inserting the appropriate sensor for that specific gas. Sensors can be changed quickly and easily, without the need for calibration when a sensor change is made.
